WALSINGHAM

"Faithful we stand, Mary's standard in hand,

To hail thee, dear school, today.

Heads carried high, banners unfurled to the sky,

Forth we come in proud array."

ACADEMY

In dedicating "The Legende" to you,
Our Parents,
We endeavor to express

to our

What our hearts feel, but cannot speak;
What our tongues speak, but cannot convey.

Foreword

Long ago within these glades, Powhatan's children romped and played.
Indian braves, white settlers too, felled here great trees,
and fashioned canoes.
Above the soft whisper of sky-sweeping pines,
Came the beat of tom-tom,
Or a church bell's chime.
These very paths which now we tread,
Were perhaps once sanctified and dyed blood-red;
For here, missionaries labored, prayed, and died,
And for their sacrifice. . . .
The lonely sigh of these tall pines down through the years;
Their only epitaph--a forest's tears.

Today, within these happy glades, Walsingham's children
romp and play;
For now upon this hallowed ground,
With firm foundation, deep and sound is raised
An edifice in brick and stone,
Dedicated, consecrated to God Alone.
Here, students study, pray, and play,
While Truth is pursued through each new day.
Yes, here is our Challenge flung against the sky--
A Divine Answer to our every "why"--
The Cross--Greatest Lesson emblazoned in gold,
Living forever when all others have been told.

A black and white photograph of a large anchor resting on a grassy field. The anchor is made of dark metal and has a rope attached to its shank. In the background, a golf course with sand traps and trees is visible under a bright sky. The overall mood is peaceful and hopeful.

Because God is our Father and Heaven our Goal;

We bear this symbol of Hope
in our hearts

We Are Hopeful.....

Although little Ruby Holmes lived only six years, her life - - in the eyes of the Lord - - was a success. Ruby in this short span of time reached a goal that many have failed to attain even in maturity. She has found eternal life. Before undergoing a delicate heart operation, Ruby was baptised at St. Bede's Church by Father Michael. Within a few days God called her to her Heavenly Home, where she remains now and forever.

May the quiet shining of Ruby's pure, innocent soul continue to radiate its gentle influence upon all of us who knew and loved her.

Let us find Hope and Inspiration in the life of Ruby Holmes - - that when we reach the end of our seeking, we too, may run to God with the divine abandon of a little child.
